Dear Greg,

Peter Binns dob 15/2/55

Mr Binns unashamedly explains that he uses A&E as his default to GP surgery, as his firm frown on him taking time off to go and see his own GP during the working week.

He has a chronic mild allergic blepharoconjunctivitis. This is improved with gel tears but I have also given him some Emedastine eyedrops to use bd for the next month. He will require a repeat prescription of Emedastine or Azelastine and I am writing to you and also to A&E so that whichever he manages to get back to see, that he will be able to acquire one of these medications on his next prescription.

Kind regards

Yours sincerely

Ian
